

The Celebration of the 100th Anniversary of Ornithological Society of Japan
Sunday 16 September 2012

Program

Celebration of the 100th anniversary

- 10:00 Opening
10:01 Address by President of OSJ, Prof Dr Yasuo Ezaki
10:15 Congratulation by Guests from Ministry of Environment and Agency for Cultural Affairs
10:25 Congratulation by President of IOU, Prof Dr Franz Bairlein
10:30 Introduction of guests and congratulation messages
10:35 “The History of Ornithological Society of Japan in this 100 years” by Prof Dr Hiroshi Nakamura
11:30 Closing

Memorial Lecture

- 13:00 -14:25
“Current perspectives in the study of bird migrations”
Prof Dr Franz Bairlein, President of IOU (Germany)
“Evolutionary genomics of host-pathogen interactions: House Finches and Mycoplasma”
Prof Dr Scott Edwards, Past-Chair of SPC (USA)

Memorial Symposium “Phylogeography of Birds in East Asia”

- 14:40 -14:50
“The aim of the symposium “
Hiroyoshi Higuchi (Keio University, SFC, Japan)
14:50 -15:20
“Process of avian endemism revealed by phylogeographical approach and Ecological Niche Model: China avian endemism case report”
Lei Fumin (Institute of Zoology, Chinese Academy of Sciences, China)
15:20 -15:50
“The Taiwan Connection-relationship between Taiwan and East Asian birds”
Lucia Liu Severinghaus (Academia Sinica, Taiwan)

15:50 -16:20

“DNA barcoding and the perspective of researches on species classification in Asia: Japanese Islands may have contributed to the rich species diversity of Asian Birds”

Isao Nishiumi (National Museum of Nature and Science, Tokyo, Japan)

16:20 -16:30

Break

16:30 -17:00

“Phylogeographic patterns and microevolution processes in crows and other birds in East Palearctic”

Alexey Kryukov (Far East Branch Russian Academy of Sciences, Russia)

17:00 -17:40

General Discussion coordinated by Hiroyoshi Higuchi